Menu – You may select one “exclusive” item for each 5’ width of booth space rented. Most items will be limited to one Food Vendor being allowed to sell a similar main item. Normally, no more than two Vendors will be allowed to sell the same or similar main items at Anchorage Market & Festival. We will attempt to give exclusives for one or two main items to each Food Vendor. You must notify us in writing in advance to add or delete a menu item. There is no limitation on the number of Food Vendors who sell French Fries, Potato Chips, Onion Rings, Cookies, Pies, Coffee (not espresso), Slushies, Smoothies and hot or cold brewed tea. Also, chili can be used as a topping or accompaniment by any vendor.

2016 Food Vendors have until October 14, 2016 to claim grandfather rights on exclusive foods that they sold during the 2016 Anchorage Market & Festival season and wish to sell as an exclusive in 2017. After that date, exclusives will be granted on a first come first served basis.

Electrical plugs are available to Food Vendors on a priority basis. Each food booth has available at least one 20amp duplex box that rents for $20 per market day. Most food booths will have an additional 20amp duplex box within a reasonable distance that will sell for $10 per market day. We also have 6 only 50amp plugs for trailers. Some are likely committed for the 2017 season by grandfather rights. It is each Food Vendor's responsibility to ensure that an adequate amount of electrical service is purchased for your needs.

Should you need electrical service, it is required that vendor finds the tag on each of your electrical appliances and determine their electrical needs in volts (120 usually); watts and/or amps. Be aware of the appliance's electrical needs when you purchase them. List all needed electrical appliances below:

Appliance	Watts	÷	Volts	= AMPS
